

BARK GLASSES, 2019Jochen Holz

With his bark glasses, Jochen explores the rarely practiced glass blowing technique of lamp working. The work focuses on the materiality of borosilicate glass and a unique process to produce rich textures and complex shapes. Glass is often seen as a material of ultimate perfection, qualities of high polished transparency and vibrant colours. Jochen aims to disrupt this perfection and to break down the pristine nature of glass.

Borosilicate glass*Dimensions vary*Each unique can be made to order*£ 35.00 excl. VAT each