

APOLLO LAMP, 2013

Pietro Russo

A suspension lamp inspired by the first satellites launched into space. It consists of two borosilicate blown glass tubes of different diameters, within which there is a second tube acting as a diffuser. The structure is made of brushed brass and LED light is used as indirect light.

Borosilicate blown glass tubes and brushed brass

L 120 × ø 10 × H 125 cm
(Height is adjustable)

£ 2 650.00 excl. VAT