Silo Studio + Wealdstone Youth Workshop

The Wealdstone Youth Workshop is a public design project with a group of 17 and 18 year olds in Wealdstone, Harrow, north-west London, who were brought together by regeneration agency Spacemakers to design and produce public furniture for use across their community. Over the last nine months, the youth – Esther Calinawan, Kayleigh Littlemore, Leo Harrison, Marina Marbella, Marius Dinu and Tanya Galia – have been led through a programme of workshops by Studio Silo to create, prototype and test a design.

Other works including a shelf, chair and bench are available upon request.
